Highlights

- Preparing an interactive spreadsheet to show my client where they were losing money and what would happen if they increased their prices, including factoring in the potential loss of customers due to the price increase. The best part was we did increase the prices, and did not lose one customer. As a result of managing unnecessary costs, and implementing modest price increases over a three year period they are now more profitable than ever.
- I was referred a new client who had a business structure with large quantum of Division 7A loan. After a detailed review we were able to set up a new structure that effectively eliminated the Division 7A loans and reduced overall tax payable by the family group.
